DR. JERRY BUSS

Jerry Buss' rise from an impoverished youth in Kemmerer, a small Wyoming mining and sheep ranching community, to his current position of influence in both the business and sports communities was not so much meteoric as it was a product of education and hard work.

A graduate of the University of Wyoming with a Bachelor's degree, Buss received his Ph.D. in Chemistry from the University of Southern California.

In 1958, he and fellow aerospace worker Frank Mariani found among other common bonds a mutual desire to improve their economic status. Applying their scientific training to commerce, chemist Buss and engineer Mariani parlayed an original $1,000 investment in an apartment building into what is today a multi-hundred million dollar real estate business with property throughout California and holdings in Arizona and Nevada.

Buss' first involvement in professional sports came in World Team Tennis in 1974. Each year under his ownership attendance increased steadily until, in 1978, the Los Angeles Strings not only won the league championship, they also broke all attendance records by a large margin.

Buss has been an avid sports fan for as long as he can remember. Unable to pursue even a high school athletic career because of his need to work, his dream had been to be involved in sports. That dream came true in June of 1979 when he purchased the Lakers, Kings and The Forum from Jack Kent Cooke for $67.5 million, the largest sports transaction in history.

The Buss family also owns and operates the Los Angeles Lazers of the Major Indoor Soccer League, the Los Angeles Strings of Team Tennis, and recently began operation of Southern California's first cable sports network, which features Forum based teams and events, along with other professional and major college athletic games and events.

Daughter Jeanie, 24, operates the Strings and heads the Forum Championship Tennis operation; youngest son Jim, 25, is President and General Manager of the Lazers, recently succeeding brother John, 28, who is working with his father in the operation of the sports network. Buss' youngest child, Janie, is a college student.

Buss' blue-jean lifestyle is as casual as his business operations are mathematically precise. He involves himself in both with great enthusiasm, as he does his community involvement. He devotes a large measure of his time and resources to many community and youth serving causes. He is most diligent in his support of education and the disadvantaged young and elderly.

BILL SHARMAN

As a player, Bill Sharman was a member of the Boston Celtics' NBA Championship clubs in 1957, 1959, 1960 and 1961.

As a coach, he guided the Lakers' to their first title in Los Angeles in 1972.

As the Lakers' general manager, he was an integral part of the club's Championship teams in 1980 and 1982.

Last year, Bill annexed his first Championship as president of the Lakers.

You could draw one of two conclusions from the facts mentioned above: either Bill Sharman can't hold a job, or Bill Sharman has a Midas touch when it comes to basketball teams.

Actually, winning and Bill Sharman have been synonymous since his days as a high school athlete. Bill was born in Abilene, Texas on May 25, 1926 and moved to Lomita, California with his family as an infant. He competed in football, baseball, track and basketball at Porterville High School, earning 15 varsity letters and an award as Outstanding High School Athlete in California in 1944. In addition to all of that, he found the time to win the state amateur singles tennis title while in high school.

Following high school Bill spent two years in the Navy, then enrolled at USC, where he was a starter on the Trojans' baseball and basketball teams as a freshman. Bill was a two-time basketball All-America at USC and did not miss a free throw in his two years of competition before leaving school early to sign a bonus contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Though Bill never appeared in a major league game he has the distinction of having been ejected from one, after an umpire cleared both benches during a hotly-contested battle during the 1951 pennant race. Bill was in the Dodger dugout that fall when Bobby Thompson belted the dramatic home run that advanced the New York Giants into the World Series.

By then, Bill had already begun his pro basketball career, having been selected by the Washington Capitals in the second-round of the 1950 NBA draft. He appeared in 31 games as a rookie in 1950-51 for the Capitals and, after being selected by Ft. Wayne in the dispersal draft of the Washington franchise in 1951, was later traded to the Celtics.

In his 10 seasons as a Celtic the club won four NBA Championships, finished first five times and never suffered a losing season. Bill was named to the All-NBA team seven times and participated in eight All-Star Games, earning MVP honors in the 1955 contest and sinking a legendary 88-foot shot in the 1958 game.

Arguably the greatest shooter during the NBA's first generation, Bill was the first guard to shoot .400 from the floor, and his .884 free throw percentage is the third-highest in NBA history. He averaged 17.8 points in 711 regular-season games and improved his performance in 78 playoff appearances by averaging 18.5 points and hitting 91 percent of his free throws, the second-highest post-season mark in league history.

In 1970, Bill was named to the NBA's Silver Anniversary team, honoring the top 10 players in the league's first 25 seasons, and was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1974. Bill came out of retirement briefly in 1984 when he played in the NBA's first Old Timers' Game during All-Star weekend in Denver.

After retiring from the Celtics in 1961, Bill began coaching, where he managed another unique accomplishment: he is the only coach to have won championships in three different pro leagues. He began the 1961-62 campaign as coach of the Los Angeles Stars in the American Basketball League and, when the team folded at mid-season, assumed command of the Cleveland Pipers, the eventual league champions. In 1970-71, Bill led the Utah Stars to the American Basketball Association title, before leading the Lakers to their first championship in Los Angeles in 1972.

That 1971-72 Laker squad posted a 33-game winning streak and finished with a 69-13 mark, both NBA records, in his first year as head coach. In his seven years as an NBA head coach, including two years with the San Francisco Warriors from 1966-68, his teams won four division titles and wound up with a 333-240 (.581) record. Bill's four Laker clubs won better than 60 percent of their games.

After his distinguished coaching career, Bill moved to the Lakers' front office, serving as general manager for six years before being elevated to his present position as club president prior to the 1982-83 campaign. Since then, the club has been in the Championship Series all three years.

Bill and his wife, Joyce, live in Rolling Hills. He has two daughters, Nancy and Janice, and two sons, Jerry and Tom, from a previous marriage.

JERRY WEST

The Lakers have reached the NBA World Championship Series in each of Jerry West's three seasons as general manager, but that shouldn't come as much of a surprise: in the 24 years that Jerry has been associated with the Lakers, the club has reached the Championship Series 14 times.

It is doubtful that any other member of the Laker organization relished last year's victory over the Celtics more than Jerry, who played on the losing side in six Championship finals against Boston.

Of course, Jerry West has had his share of success, too. He retired after the 1973-74 season having scored 25,192 points in his 14-year career, at that time only the third player to have scored 25,000 points and still the sixth-leading total in NBA history. Jerry's 27.0 scoring average is the fourth-highest in league history and he ranks among the leaders in several other categories.

He spent all 14 seasons with the Lakers and retains the club lead in many departments, including points, games (932) and assists (6,238).

Jerry was the all-time NBA playoff leader in points (4,457) and assists (970) until this past spring, when the Lakers' Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Earvin Johnson passed him in both categories, respectively. His 29.1 post-season scoring average remains the highest in NBA history.

Two of his most memorable accomplishments came in 1965, when he averaged 40.6 points per playoff game, and the 1970 Championship Series, when he sank a 60-foot shot at the buzzer in The Forum to send a game into overtime.

Jerry was selected to the All-NBA first team 10 times, the second team twice, the All-Defensive first team four times and second team once. He was selected to play in the All-Star Game for 13 consecutive seasons and was MVP of the 1972 classic, played at The Forum, and NBA Playoff MVP in 1969, despite playing for the losing team.

He was a member of the Lakers' record-setting 1971-72 team, which compiled a 33-game winning streak and 69-13 record, en route to bringing the club's first title to Los Angeles.

Jerry was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979, and was named to the NBA's 35th Anniversary team in 1980.

His success has not been limited to his playing days, either. From 1976 to 1979, Jerry served as the Lakers' head coach, compiling a 145-101 record. His first club went 53-29 in 1976-77, the best record in the NBA that season.

For the next three years Jerry served the Lakers as a special consultant, with the primary responsibility of scouting college players. Prior to the 1982-83 campaign he was elevated to the position of general manager, where he oversees the day-to-day operation of the club and all player personnel decisions.

Jerry was born on May 28, 1938 in Cheylan, West Virginia and gained national prominence at East Bank High School, leading his team to the state championship in 1956. He averaged 32.2 points per game that year to become the first player in West Virginia to score over 900 points in a season.

He went on to the University of West Virginia, where he set 12 school records, graduated with a 24.8 career scoring average and was a two-time All-America before becoming the Lakers' first pick in the 1960 college draft.

Jerry served as co-captain of the 1960 U.S. Olympic basketball team which won the gold medal and is generally considered the greatest Olympic basketball team ever. He was also a member of the gold medal-winning U.S. squad in the 1958 Pan American Games.

Jerry and his wife, Karen, reside in Bel Air with their six-year-old son, Ryan. Jerry has three other sons, David, Michael and Mark, from a previous marriage.

PAT RILEY

Take away Pat Riley's Hollywood-type good looks, expensive wardrobe and youthful appearance, and what do you have left?

The winningest coach in NBA history. As Casey Stengel once uttered, "You can look it up."

Pat's regular-season career record of 224-93 (.707) and playoff mark of 49-20 (.710) give him the highest winning percentages in NBA history in both categories. He is also the first coach to take his team to the Championship Series in his first four seasons, even more amazing when you realize Pat hasn't coached for four full years yet.

In addition to winning his second championship as the Lakers' head coach last year, Pat reached another milestone on February 17 when the Lakers' 117-111 decision over the Celtics afforded him his 200th coaching triumph in his 289th game, enabling him to match Billy Cunningham as the fastest coaches to reach that plateau.

Pat's work has not gone unnoticed, as the following remarks would attest:

"The Lakers have got an excellent coach, excellent strategy," offered Boston's Larry Bird, after the Lakers had won the title. "He made more adjustments than I've ever seen anyone make. His coaching was unbelievable."

"Pat Riley has done an oustanding job," echoes New York Knicks' coach Hubie Brown. "He is always well-prepared and nobody works harder than this guy."

Of course, Pat played under one of the great coaches of all time, Adolph Rupp, at the Unversity of Kentucky. He was the team's MVP for three years and team captain as a senior, though he had his best year as a junior when he averaged 22 points per game and led the Wildcats to the NCAA finals.

Pat was the seventh player taken in the first round of the 1967 college draft by the San Diego Rockets, where he played for three years. In May of 1970, the Portland Trail Blazers selected Pat in the expansion draft, but sold him to the Lakers prior to the start of the season.

Pat spent more than five years of his nine-year NBA career with the Lakers and was a member of the club's record-setting Championship club in 1971-72. His best season was 1974-75, when he averaged 11 points per game and had a career-high 38-point outing. The Lakers dealt him to the Phoenix Suns early in the following season and he retired after that campaign.

Pat was beginning his third season as Chick Hearn's colorman on Laker broadcasts in November, 1979, when Laker head coach Jack McKinney was seriously injured in a bicycle accident. Assistant coach Paul Westhead replaced McKinney as head coach and, while waiting for a plane at the Denver airport, asked Pat to join him as his assistant.

Pat, 40, replaced Westhead as the Lakers' head coach on Nov. 19, 1981, and the club responded by winning 11 of its next 13 games, establishing the momentum that led to the club's second NBA title in three years. Under his leadership the club finished the regular season winning 50 of its final 71 games, then breezed through the playoffs winning 12 of 14 contests, including an NBA playoff-record nine in a row with back-to-back series sweeps.

In March, 1983, the Lakers gave Pat his 100th victory in his 138th game as head coach and only two coaches reached that milestone quicker. As mentioned earlier, no coach earned his 200th victory quicker. In fact, after only four years at the helm, Pat already ranks sixth in career playoff victories with 49.

Pat also starred in football while growing up in Schenectady, New York, and was an 11th-round draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys in 1967 despite the fact that he hadn't played college football. His brother, Lee, played defensive back in the NFL, and his father, Leon was a major league catcher and minor league manager.

Among Pat's travels this summer were a trip to Italy, where he put on clinics and vacationed, and a cruise to Alaska.

Pat, his wife, Chris, and son, James Patrick, who will celebrate his first birthday near mid-season, live in Brentwood.

Pat Riley's 224-93 record since becoming the Lakers' head coach on November 19, 1981, gives him a .707 regular-season winning percentage, the highest in NBA history. Here is Pat's record against the other 22 NBA clubs in regular-season games during his tenure as the Lakers' head coach:

BILL BERTKA

If Pat Riley is the most successful coach in NBA history, what does that make Bill Bertka?

After all, one of Riley's first moves when he became the Lakers' head coach was to select Bertka as his assistant, saying, "I never really considered anyone else."

And, evidently, Riley has never regretted the decision. "Bill has been a mentor to me and a man who has taught me how to deal with coaching over a long period of time," Riley explained. "He is a very vital part of this organization and a lot of the things we do come directly from his philosophy."

Actually, Bill is a very vital part of several prominent basketball organizations. One of those is Bertka Views, the most successful college scouting service in the country which he started, now operated by his wife, Solveig. Many of the nation's premier college basketball programs use Bertka Views as their sole scouting service.

Meanwhile, Bill, long recognized for his scouting ability, maintains access to more scouting reports on college talent than anyone.

Another organization he's had a great deal of impact on are the Utah Jazz. Bertka joined the Jazz shortly after the club was formed in 1974 as vice-president in charge of basketball operations. He served the Jazz in a variety of roles, including general manager, director of player personnel and assistant coach, helping to build the expansion franchise for eight years before answering Riley's call.

Of course, joining the Lakers was a natural move for Bill, since he had been the club's chief scout and director of player personnel for six years before joining the Jazz.

Bill, 58, played his college ball at Kent State University and played in the old National Industrial Basketball League before opting on a career in coaching. From 1954 until 1957 he coached at Hancock College in Santa Maria, California, leading his team to a 42-game winning streak, 97-13 overall record and a California Junior College State Championship in 1957.

Bertka then left Hancock and returned to his alma mater, where he served as head coach for four years and helped elevate Kent State's program to the major-college level.

Bill and Solveig have two daughters, Britt and Kris, and make their home in Santa Barbara.

The Lakers concluded the 1984-85 regular season with a 62-20 record, the second-best mark in club history. Only the record-setting 1971-72 Laker squad, winners of 33 straight games and 69-13 overall, posted a better record. Last year's club was the fourth in Laker history to win 60 games.

GENE TORMOHLEN

"Bumper", as he is known throughout the NBA, returns for a third season as the Lakers' scout.

The Atlanta-based Tormohlen serves as the Lakers' primary scout of college talent and has earned a strong reputation as a judge of talent. This will be his 18th consecutive season scouring the nation's college field houses and arenas.

Prior to joining the Lakers for the 1983-84 campaign, Gene had been a scout with the Chicago Bulls for seven years and, prior to that, spent eight years with the Atlanta Hawks as a scout and assistant coach.

The 6-9 native of Holland, Indiana was a two-time All-SEC performer at Tennessee, serving as captain as a senior. Gene played for the St. Louis Hawks for six years, retiring when the club moved to Atlanta. He also played with the amateur Cleveland Pipers of the NIBL, leading the team to league and AAU titles in his second season, then played with the Kansas City Steers of the American Basketball League for two years.

Gene and his wife, Julie, have two children, Gina and Tommy.

GARY VITTI

Gary Vitti became one of the few rookies in NBA history to earn a Championship ring last season—and earn it he did.

Vitti's title is "trainer" but his duties go far beyond taping ankles. In addition to the care, prevention and rehabilitation of injuries to Laker players, the 31-year-old Vitti is responsible for all equipment, transportation, hotel accommodations, coordinating practice schedules and telling one or two bad jokes a day at practice.

Vitti came to the Lakers prior to last season from the University of Portland, where he served as an assistant trainer with the Utah Jazz in 1981, and, for two years before that, as a trainer at the University of Utah.

In addition to his duties as trainer, Gary served as an instructor at both universities and designed and implemented a new curriculum program in sports medicine at the University of Portland.

Gary grew up in Stamford, Connecticut, earning varsity letters in baseball, basketball and football at Stamford Catholic High School. He earned a B.S. from Southern Connecticut State College in 1976 and an M.S. in Sports Medicine from the University of Utah in 1982, where he is currently working towards a Ph.D.

Gary and his wife, Christine, have adapted very smoothly to the Southern California lifestyle and make their home in Manhattan Beach.

CHICK HEARN

Ever since the Lakers made the playoffs in 1961, the club's first season in Los Angeles, one constant has remained: his name is Chick Hearn.

Few announcers, or ballplayers, for that matter, conjure up the strong bond with a particular team that remains with Chick and the Lakers.

It is doubtful if any of the great stars who have worn Laker uniforms over the past 25 years have the enduring popularity and loyalty that Chick has. His entertaining "words-eye-view" has been many fans' principle link with the club.

On March 28, 1981, the Lakers honored him with "Chick Hearn Night" and the hundreds of congratulatory letters and telegrams he received filled two scrapbooks, including one from President Ronald Reagan.

Although best known for his work with the Lakers, Chick has covered virtually every conceivable kind of sporting event: Forum boxing, NCAA football, UNLV basketball, soccer, PGA golf tournaments, the first Ali-Frazier fight, the Rose Bowl, the East-West Shrine football game, celebrity tennis and Bowling for Dollars.

Chick grew up in Aurora, Illinois and attended Bradley University. Born Francis Dayle Hearn, he was forever pinned with the nickname "Chick" when, as an AAU basketball player, he was handed a box of sneakers, only to be surprised to find a chicken inside.

Chick came to Los Angeles in 1956 to broadcast USC football and basketball and later did a nightly radio sports show that earned him two Emmy Awards in the 1960's. He has received a Golden Mike Award and has twice been named National Sportscaster of the Year.

It was during the spring of 1961, when the Lakers began competing in the playoffs, that Chick was asked to assume the radio broadcast chores. He's been there ever since.

GET THE BEST OF THE ARCHIVE.org

This past summer Chick shared his expertise at the first Sportscasters' Camp on the campus of UC Santa Barbara.

Chick and his wife, Marge, live in Encino with their daughter, Samantha.

NBA PLAYOFF STRUCTURE

Once again, the 16-team playoff format adopted in 1983 and utilized for the past two seasons, will be in effect this year.

Eight teams from each conference, the two division champions and the six other teams in each conference with the best winning percentage, qualify for the playoffs.

The first round of the playoffs will be a best-of-five series with all succeeding rounds, including the NBA Championship Series, best-of-seven. All teams participate in all rounds—the first-round bye formerly awarded division winners are no longer in effect.

As in last year's Championship Series, the team with the higher winning percentage will host the first two and last two games, if necessary. The other team will host Games 3-4-5.

KEITH ERICKSON

As a player, Keith Erickson was a steady, dependable player, with a lot of substance, if not a lot of flash.

The same can be said of his broadcasting style, which makes him the perfect partner for Chick Hearn.

Obviously, Chick agrees. "Keith is one of the most thoroughly oriented basketball men I have ever been associated with," said Hearn. "He's as good a professional basketball color analyst as the game knows."

The El Segundo native is an excellent all-around athlete. Though most-known for his exploits on the basketball floor, it was as a volleyball player that he made the U.S. Olympic team in 1964.

Keith played on two NCAA basketball champions at UCLA under John Wooden and participated in five NBA World Championship Series. He was a member of the Lakers' record-setting Championship club in 1971-72, and averaged 10 points per game for his 12-year NBA career, which included 309 games as a Laker.

Keith had worked as an announcer with CBS-TV, the USA Network and ON-TV in Los Angeles before filling the vacant seat next to Chick that was created when Pat Riley left the broadcast booth to become Paul Westhead's assistant coach early in the 1979-80 season.

Keith and his wife, Adrienne, live in Santa Monica with their five children, Angelica, David, Forest, Gloria, and Sean.

The Lakers set three NBA team records during the 1984-85 campaign:

FG PCT.: The Lakers shot .545 from the floor to shatter the NBA record the club set in 1983-84 (.532). Prior to the regular-season finale, when the Lakers played without the services of three of the league's top marksmen—Kareem Abdul-Jabbar (fourth), James Worthy (sixth) and Earvin Johnson (ninth)—the Lakers had hit at least 50 percent of their FGs in 20 straight games. The Lakers failed to shoot .500 in just 15 of 82 games, winning six of them, and were 28-5 when shooting at least 55 percent. Nine of the 12 Lakers on the club's playoff roster shot better than .500.

ASSISTS: Led by Earvin Johnson, who erased his club standard set last year (875) with 968 assists, the Lakers were credited with a league-record 2,575 assists. The Lakers broke the record of 2,562 set by the Milwaukee Bucks during the 1978-79 season.

DIVISIONAL LEAD: The Lakers became the first club in NBA history to win a division by 20 games. The previous record was 19 games, set by the Central Division champion Washington Bullets in 1974-75. The 1971-72 Lakers won the Pacific Division by 18 games.

Height: 7-2 Weight: 240
Position: Center
Born: April 16, 1947
High School: Power Memorial (New York)
College: UCLA '69
Residence: Bel Air

Acquired in a trade with the Milwaukee Bucks following the 1974-75 season for Elmore Smith, Brian Winters, Dave Meyers and Junior Bridgeman.

1984-85: If Ponce de Leon had met Kareem, he could have saved himself a lot of trouble . . . capped a banner season by leading the Lakers to the NBA title and winning the playoff MVP Award, an award he last won in 1971 . . . his statistics improved from 1983-84 in virtually every category . . . averaged 22.0 points per game, his highest since 1981-82, and his .599 FG pct. was the second-highest of his career . . . improved his all-time leading point total to 33,262 and passed Jerry West to become the NBA's all-time leading playoff scorer during the Championship Series vs. the Celtics . . . extended his double-figure-scoring streak to 617 consecutive regular-season games, reaching 600 March 6 vs. Golden State . . . reached the 33,000-point mark with two free throws vs. the Clippers March 16 . . . hit 157-246 FGs (.638) over the last 18 regular-season games . . . had a season-high 40 points vs. Houston Feb. 5 and averaged 31.0 points vs. the Rockets, getting 30 or more points in four of the five games . . . scored 30 or more points 14 times compared to seven such games in 1983-84, and that's the most 30-point outings he's had since 1981-82 . . . had 20 or more points in 50 regular-season games, including nine of his last 12 outings . . . regular-season high 14 rebounds twice, playoff-high 17 rebounds twice including Game 2 of the Championship Series . . . scored in double figures in all 19 playoff games, 20 or more 11 times including the last five contests with a high of 36 in Game 5 vs. the Celtics . . . his nine offensive rebounds and five steals in Game 4 at Portland were his playoff highs as a Laker . . . only Laker to start each of the club's first 75 games before missing April 3 at San Antonio due to the flu, then sat out the final two regular-season contests to rest his sore right knee . . . led the Lakers in scoring for the 10th straight year and also led in rebounding (7.9), getting 600 boards for the first time since 1981-82 . . . ranked fourth in the NBA in FG pct., 10th in blocked shots (2.05) and 20th in scoring . . . led Lakers in scoring 41 times, rebounds on 29 occasions . . . double-figure rebounds 17 times . . . named NBA Player of the Week March 25 after averaging 28.7 points and shooting better than 75 percent FGs in the previous three games . . . played more minutes (2,630) than he had in the previous two seasons . . . became all-time NBA leader in FGA and now has 24,414 . . . competed in the playoffs for the 14th season and had 11 points in his record-setting 14th All-Star Game appearance . . . named to All-NBA second team . . . Lakers' leading scorer (21.9) and rebounder (8.1) in the playoffs . . . lead the Lakers in scoring in six post-season contests, with two 30-point outings in the Championship Series.

CAREER: Kareem's first milestone this year will come in the opening game of the season, when he becomes the first player in NBA history to compete for a 17th season . . . only player in NBA history to have won six MVP Awards (1971-72-74-76-77-79) . . . selected to the All-Star Game 15 Times, All-NBA first team nine times and All-Defensive team 11 times, five on first team . . . one of 14 players to have won NBA titles with two different franchises . . . Rookie of the Year in 1969-70 and the league's second-leading scorer (29.9) that year . . . in addition to winning his first MVP Award the following year he was named playoff MVP as the Milwaukee Bucks swept the Bullets for the title . . . made it back-to-back MVPs and scoring titles in 1971-72 as he tossed in his career-high 34.8 points per game . . . averaged more than 44 minutes per game that year and scored his career-high 55 points at Boston . . . runner-up for MVP in 1972-73 but won his third the following year, finishing third in scoring (27.0) and fourth in rebounding (14.5) . . . came to the Lakers prior to the 1975-76 season in a trade that sent Junior Bridgeman, Dave Meyers, Elmore Smith and Brian Winters to the Bucks . . . added three more MVP trophies since he joined the Lakers . . . has averaged 24.4 points since joining the Lakers and ranks among the club's top three in virtually every statistical category, along with Jerry West and Elgin Baylor . . . credit veteran announcer Eddie Doucette with naming Kareem's favorite weapon the "sky-hook" . . . has scored

The 1984-85 Lakers had the distinction of not losing a season series to any of the other 22 NBA clubs. Seattle was the only club to beat the Lakers three times, earning a split, while Denver and San Antonio were the only clubs to win as many as two games from the Lakers. Denver, which won two regular-season and one playoff game at The Forum, was the only team to win more than one game at The Forum—besides the Lakers, that is.

Acquired by the Lakers on Aug. 5, 1981, from the Washington Bullets for Jim Chones, Brad Holland, a second-round pick in the 1982 college draft and a third-round selection in the 1983 draft.

1984-85: Mitch picked a good time to play his best ball of the season — the Championship Series — as his intensity and aggressiveness were major factors that enabled the Lakers to wrest the title from the Celtics ... appeared in all six Championship Series games, averaging 5.2 points and 3.3 rebounds in 14.5 minutes ... appeared in 16 post-season contests overall, averaging 4.7 points and 3.0 rebounds ... started the club's final two regular-season games, averaging 24 points and 10 rebounds ... appeared in 58 games and he'd only appeared in that many once since the 1979-80 campaign ... available for all but two games, after he required approximately 40 stitches to close a laceration above his right eye in late January ... had 29 points, his highest-scoring game as a Laker, April 12 vs. Seattle, matching his career highs with 13-21 FGs and tying his season-high with 13 rebounds ... started three games at center in Kareem's absence ... averaged 7.9 points and 4.1 rebounds over his last 19 outings ... double figures 10 times, including the last two games ... led or shared club lead in rebounds three times ... had his playoff highs as a Laker in virtually every category, getting 10 points in Game 2 vs. Portland and 10 rebounds in Game 5 vs. Denver.

CAREER: Mitch was a first-round draft choice of the Washington Bullets in 1976 and served as the club's sixth man behind Wes Unseld and Elvin Hayes for five years before joining the Lakers ... a major force on the Bullets' Championship team in 1978 ... shot .572 from the floor as a rookie, at that time a record for first-year players, until broken by Steve Johnson and Buck Williams in 1981-82 ... that .572 at the time was the 10th-highest FG pct. in NBA history ... in 1977-78 he suffered torn ligaments in his right thumb in January and was sidelined for four weeks ... his 14.6 scoring average in 1978-79 was the second-highest in the league among non-starters ... his two highest-scoring games (32 points) of his career came nearly a year apart, Nov. 19, 1977 vs. Kansas City and Nov. 24, 1978 vs. the Lakers ... after surgery to remove a herinated disc in his back, Mitch came back strong in 1980-81, appearing in all 82 games and setting a personal high for minutes played ... averaged 12.5 points and shot .525 from the floor that year, his best rebounding season as he grabbed 569, an average of 6.9 ... Mitch's 26 starts with the Lakers in 1981-82 were more starts than he had made in five years with the Bullets, and his .573 FG pct. and 8.1 rebound average were the best of his career ... suffered multiple injuries to his left knee on Dec. 19, 1981 in San Diego and it was feared he would never play again ... Lakers were 19-7 at the time of his injury ... scored in double figures in 19 games with six games of 20 or more points and seven double-digit rebound outings ... made 11-11 FGs vs. San Antonio on Nov. 20, 1981 (getting 25 points and 17 rebounds), to join Wilt Chamberlain as the only Lakers to have shot 1.000 from the floor in a game with 10 or more FGAs ... among the injuries to his knee was a torn anterior cruciate ligament which required two operations ... the second operation on June 9, 1982, the day after the Lakers won the NBA title, transplanted part of his patellar tendon where the ligament had been ... underwent daily therapy and rehabilitation for 16 months and returned to the active roster Nov. 18, 1983 ... saw his first action Nov. 25, 1983 vs. New Jersey ... appeared in 34 regular-season and nine playoff games in 1983-84.

COLLEGE: Mitch was a standout for four years at North Carolina where he shot .586 from the floor for his career ... shot .604 as a freshman, .602 as a junior ... UNC won the ACC Tournament his junior year and Mitch was the league's Player of the Year as a senior ... averaged 13.5 points per game for his career, better than 11 rebounds a game over his final two seasons.

PERSONAL: Mitch attended UCLA during the summer, continuing work towards his MBA degree ... did take time off for a Caribbean cruise and his annual summer camp at Fordham University in New York ... owns a chain of eight high-tech sportswear stores named Commander Salamader and Up Against The Wall in Washington, D.C., Philadelphia and Richmond . . . among his major likes are Bruce Springsteen, the New York Yankees and UNC basketball . . . has spent a great amount of time working with charities, notably the Special Olympics . . . has a two-phase contract which includes working for Dr. Buss when his playing days are over . . . has an older sister and younger twin brothers . . . Mitch is single and lives in Westwood.

Born: March 28, 1961
High School: Morningside (Inglewood, California)
College: Arizona State
Residence: Marina del Rey

Acquired by the Lakers on Oct. 10, 1983 along with Swen Nater from San Diego for Norm Nixon, Eddie Jordan and two future draft choices.

1984-85: Byron grew up 14 blocks from The Forum, and that seemed to be his shooting range as he led the NBA in three-point FG pct., hitting 26-60 (.433), the highest ratio since Campy Russell shot .439 in 1981-82 . . . was the only Laker to lead the league in any category . . . was the club's leading scorer in April (20.3) and second-leading scorer in March (18.5), hitting 10-20 3FGs and 173-295 FGs (.586) over those two months combined . . . averaged 16 points, fourth-best on the club, and his FG pct. was .546 if you subtract his 3FGs . . . with the exception of a 15-point, 16-minute outing Apr. 12 vs. Seattle, he scored 22 or more points in five of the last six games, averaging 23.2 points on 62-95 FGs (.653) over that span . . . finished with 20 or more points in nine of the last 12 games, 26 overall and led club in scoring 11 times . . . had season-high 30 points vs. Kansas City Apr. 5 . . . averaged 18.9 points over the final 31 games . . . scored in double figures in 70 of his 81 outings . . . missed lone game at Portland Jan. 29 due to the flu . . . career-high 10 assists vs. Phoenix Nov. 21, nine rebounds twice . . . only failed to score in double figures in back-to-back games once, and those were the games before and after the one game he sat out . . . twice scored 20 or more points in four straight games and had double figures in the club's first 11 contests . . . started the club's first eight games, came off the bench for the next 15, then started the remainder of the season with the exception of the game he missed . . . in addition to the regular-season career highs for rebounds and assists already noted he had his highs in FGM-A (13-20), and steals (seven) . . . had career-playoff highs in most categories, including points (31 in Game 2 vs. Portland), rebounds (seven in Game 3 vs. Boston) and assists (seven in Game 1 vs. Phoenix) . . . double figures in 17 of 19 playoff contests, 20 or more on eight occasions . . . averaged 16.9 points during the playoffs, fourth-best on the club . . . led Lakers in scoring in Western Conference final vs. Denver averaging 23.4 points on 51-78 FGs (.654) . . . had 24 turnovers in the playoffs compared to 41 steals and hit 10-21 3FGs (.476).

CAREER: Byron was the fourth player and first guard selected in the 1983 college draft, but was traded to the Lakers by the Clippers the day before the pre-season schedule started . . . after a slow start Byron emerged as a starter and wound up the third-leading vote-getter on the All-Rookie team . . . was shooting just .364 FGs after his first 16 games, but shot .509 after Jan. 1 to finish at .484 . . . suffered a sprained right knee during the last week of the regular season that slowed him during the early rounds of the playoffs . . . had career-high 32 points at Denver Feb. 1, 1984 and four of his five highest-scoring games over the last two years have come on the road.

COLLEGE: Although Byron only played at Arizona State for three years he left as the school's all-time scoring leader with 1,572 points . . . shot better than .500 and his scoring average increased each year, topped by his 21.6 average as a senior when he scored a school-record 713 points . . . averaged 13.6 points in 1979-80 and 16.6 the following year . . . sat out 1981-82 due to academic difficulties . . . scored in double figures in 31 of 33 games in 1982-83 and had his career-high 35 points vs. Oregon State . . . also had 32 points and 12 rebounds vs. Stanford . . . finished second in steals and third in assists and career scoring average at ASU . . . made the All-Pac-10 first team as a senior and Pac-10 Rookie of the Year in 1980 . . . two-time MVP of the Fiesta Classic and MVP of the Aloha Classic in 1982 . . . played with four other NBA-bound players at ASU: Lafayette Lever, Alton Lister, Kurt Nimphius and Sam Williams.

PERSONAL: Byron attended nearby Morningside High School, where he set the school scoring record . . . grew up rooting for Jerry West and idolized Bob McAdoo to the point that he put his number on his sneakers . . . Byron's travel this summer took him to camps and clinics in Colorado, Albuquerque, Detroit and Arizona, with a little R & R in the Bahamas . . . MVP of the Southern California Pro Summer League where he averaged 33.9 points and had 140 over a three-game span, including 56 against the Clippers . . . perhaps the best impersonator in the NBA, with Mr. T., Eddie Murphy and Stevie Wonder among his specialities . . . plays the drums ad hobbies include football, baseball and horseback riding . . . selected to the McDonald's and Parade Magazine All-America teams while in high school and chosen to the Dapper Dan Classic . . . The Lakers have qualified for the playoffs after each of the last nine seasons, and only Philadelphia, which has participated in the post-season tournament for 10 straight years, has a longer active streak. The Lakers have only missed the playoffs three times since the club's formation in 1948: 1958, 1975 and 1976. The Lakers' 34 playoff appearances in their 37 years of existence gives the club the highest percentage of post-season appearances of any club in NBA history.

Abdul-Jabbar is named series MVP, an award he previously won in 1971.

THE '80s—DECADE OF THE LAKERS

It has been 16 years since a team has successfully defended an NBA Championship. While no team has been able to repeat since the Celtics won a second consecutive title in 1969, no team has matched the success of the Lakers since the start of the present decade.

Since the 1980 playoffs, the Lakers have won three NBA titles and appeared in the Championship Series for five out of six seasons. The Lakers have appeared in each of the last four Championship Series, and you'd have to go back to the Celtics' dynasty of the early '60s to match that streak. No other club has appeared in more than four straight finals.

Since the 1979-80 campaign, the Lakers are 345-147 (.701) in regular-season play, 407-173 (.702) overall and the club's 62-26 mark in the playoffs gives them the most wins and highest winning pct. (.705) in post-season play over that span.

*Streak snapped 120-104 by the Milwaukee Bucks, Jan. 9, 1972.

The Lakers' 36-5 Forum record last year was one game off the club record (37-4) set in 1976-77 and 1979-80. The Lakers won their final 17 regular-season home games, last losing on Jan. 30 to Houston, and extended that string to 23 games, the longest in club history, before succumbing to Denver in the second game of the Western Conference finals.

| Hockey: | 16,005 |
| Conventions: | 19,385 |
| Boxing: | 18,780 |
| Concerts: | 19,000 |

The Forum, built by Jack Kent Cooke in 1967 and purchased by Jerry Buss in 1979, is one of the world's premier sports and entertainment showplaces.

Forum history highlights include, the largest live boxing gate, $475,640, in West Coast history when Muhammad Ali split decisioned Ken Norton on Sept. 10, 1973; Tony Bennett and Duke Ellington in the first Forum concert in 1968; the Lakers 114-100 victory over the New York Knicks on May 7, 1972 to bring the NBA championship to Los Angeles.

Approximately 30 million people have flocked to such Forum events as world championship boxing, the Harlem Globetrotters, concerts of all shapes and dimensions, ice shows, the circus, rodeos, the Los Angeles Strings of Team Tennis, the Los Angeles Times Indoor Track & Field Games and seemingly countless other spectacular entertainment and sporting events.

The Forum added another distinction when it served as the venue for the men's and women's basketball competition in the 1984 Olympic Games.

More than 70 percent of seating is between the baskets or goals, and no seat is more than 170 feet from the playing surface.

The finest in dining is provided in the private Forum Club, the public Whistle Stop and at numerous concession stands.

LAKERS YEAR-BY-YEAR

1961 — Lakers first season in Los Angeles after 12 years in Minneapolis . . . Finish in second place in the Western Division behind St. Louis . . . Forward Elgin Baylor winds up as the second leading scorer in the NBA with 2,538 points and a 34.8 ppg. average . . . Playoffs: Defeat Detroit (3-2), but lose to St. Louis (3-4).

1962 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . Lakers win the West as Jerry West pours in 2,310 points (30.8) and a part-time Elgin Baylor averages 38.3 . . . Playoffs: Baylor averages 38.6 points and West 31.5 as the Lakers defeat Detroit (4-2), but lose to Boston (3-4) in the championship series in an overtime seventh game . . . Schaus coached.

1963 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS Elgin Baylor again finishes as the second leading scorer in the league with 2,719 points (34.0) as the Lakers roll to their second division title . . . Playoffs: Lakers defeat St. Louis (4-3), but lose to Boston in the finals (2-4) . . . Schaus coached.

1964 — West (2,064 pts, 28.7 average) and Baylor (1,983 pts, 25.4 average) finish as the fifth and sixth leading scorers in the league, but Lakers finish in third place behind San Francisco and St. Louis . . . Playoffs: Lose to St. Louis (2-3) in first round . . . Schaus coached.

1965 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . West paces the Lakers with 31.0 ppg.—second best in the league . . . Playoffs: Lakers beat Baltimore (4-2) in the division finals despite the absence of the injured Elgin Baylor . . . Lose to Boston (1-4) in the championship. Jerry West has a record-breaking playoff, scoring an incredible 447 points for a 40.6 average in the 11 games played . . . Schaus coached.

1966 — Lakers lead the NBA in scoring, averaging 119.5 ppg . . . West again finishes as the league's second best scorer, averaging 31.3 ppg . . . Playoffs: Lakers defeat St. Louis (4-3) in the division finals, but lose the championship to Boston (3-4) in a seventh game that Boston wins by two points, 95-93 . . . Schaus coached. continued . . .

LAKERS YEAR-BY-YEAR

1967 — Plagued by injuries that keep West out of the lineup for 15 games and Baylor out for 11, the Lakers slide to third place in the Western Division. Playoffs: West manages to play in only one playoff game and the Lakers bow to San Francisco (0-3) in the opening round. Schaus coached.

1968 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . Under new coach Butch Van Breda Kolff, Lakers roll to division title despite absence of West for 31 games during regular season. Baylor leads the team in scoring (26.0) rebounding (941) and assists (355). Playoffs: Lakers sweep by Chicago (4-1) and San Francisco (4-0) but lose to Boston (2-4) in championship.

1969 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS. Lakers start slowly, but compile nine-game win streak in November that puts them in first place for the rest of the season. New Laker Wilt Chamberlain leads league in rebounds (21.1) and field goal percentage (.583). Playoffs: Lakers lose first two playoff games but come back to beat San Francisco (4-2), then overwhelm Atlanta (4-1). Lose to Boston (3-4) in seven games, the last game a 108-106 heartbreaker in Los Angeles. Van Breda Kolff coached.

1970 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS. Injury jinx again hits Lakers as Wilt Chamberlain tears knee ligaments and is lost to team for regular season. Lakers finish in second place in division. Playoffs: Wilt Chamberlain back, Lakers defeat Phoenix (4-3) and Atlanta (4-0), but run out of miracles in the final series against New York, bowing to the Knicks and a hobbling Willis Reed in seven games (3-4). Joe Mullaney coached.

1971 — PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS. Lakers finish a strong seven games ahead of San Francisco for the division crown, despite Baylor missing all but two games in the regular season. Scoring slack was taken up by Chamberlain (20.7), Happy Hairston (18.6) and Gail Goodrich (17.5). Playoffs: Both Baylor and West are not in uniform, but Lakers still manage to upset Chicago in seven games (4-3) in the opening round. Team falls to eventual World Champion Milwaukee Bucks in five games (1-4). Mullaney coached.

1972 — WORLD CHAMPIONS . . . Lakers set record as winningest team in the history of the NBA with 69 wins, and also compile a 33-game win streak — the longest streak in all professional sports, as they finish in first place in the Pacific Division by an amazing 18 games. Goodrich averages 25.9 points and West hands out a league-leading 747 assists. Playoffs: Lakers roll over Chicago (4-0) and eliminate Milwaukee (4-2) to win the Western Division. Los Angeles spots New York a one game lead in the finals, but then rolls to four straight wins to gain the World Championship (4-1). In the final game Wilt Chamberlain hauls down 29 rebounds and scores 24 points as the Lakers win 114-100. Bill Sharman is voted Coach-of-the-Year.

1973 — WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS. Wilt Chamberlain becomes the first player in NBA history to shoot over 70% from the field (.727) and the Lakers have the second best record in the club's history, winning 60 and losing only 22. Playoffs: Lakers down Chicago (4-3) and Golden State (4-1) to again face New York for the championship. Lakers win the first game, but Knicks' pressure defense causes Los Angeles to average 19 turnovers per game and New York wins the next four and the title (1-4). Sharman coached.

1974 — PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS. Lakers stage a tremendous comeback in the last seven games of the season to erase Golden State's three game lead and win the crown. Their accomplishment was even more remarkable considering that they did it without last year's stalwarts, Wilt Chamberlain and Jim McMillian, and with West sidelined for 51 games. Playoffs: Lose to Milwaukee in opening round (1-4). Sharman coached.

1975 — Jerry West retires. Cazzie Russell injures his knee and is out for the balance of the season, and the Lakers miss the NBA playoffs for the first time in 14 seasons. High points of the year include Gail Goodrich's 53 points against Kansas City-Omaha and Happy Hairston's 14 rebounds in one quarter against Philadelphia. Sharman coached.

1976 — New Laker Kareem-Abdul Jabbar becomes the first Laker in either Minneapolis or Los Angeles to win the League MVP award, the fourth time in his seven-year career that he has received that honor. In one of the most convincing displays of basketball dominance, Abdul-Jabbar leads the league in rebounds, blocked shots, minutes played, is second in scoring, fifth in shooting, and second on the Lakers in steals and assists. However, Lakers are totally unable to win on the road (9-32) and are edged out of the playoffs by losing the last two games of the season at Portland and Phoenix . . . Sharman coached.

1977 — PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . Former Laker great, Jerry West, returns to the team as head coach, and in his rookie season guides the Lakers to the best record in the NBA—53-29—and the Pacific Division title . . . In the process, Lakers set an NBA record with 37 home wins and a Laker team record with 21 consecutive home victories . . . Center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar wins his second straight NBA Most Valuable Player award, the fifth time in his eight year career that he has earned such honors. Playoffs: Lakers defeat Golden State in seven games (4-3) as Abdul-Jabbar averages 37 points, 18.7 rebounds, and shoots .607 from the field. In the Western Conference finals, Lakers are unable to contain Portland's quick guards and are swept, 0-4.

1978 — Five Laker players suffer broken bones in the first half of the season including center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who breaks his hand in the first two minutes of the opening game of the year when he punches Milwaukee center Kent Benson in retaliation for a thrown elbow . . . In addition, forward Kermit Washington is fined $10,000 and suspended 60 days for punching Houston forward Rudy Tomjanovich . . . In the second half of the season, with most of the players healthy, Lakers roll to a 28-13 mark, second best in the league . . . For the season Lakers shoot .487 from the field, second best in the history of the franchise. Playoffs: Laker guards are pressured into shooting a combined .363 (37-102) from the field as team loses to Seattle, 1-2, in the first round.

1979 — West completes three-year reign as coach with 47-35 record and playoff elimination by Seattle for second straight year . . . Bullets and Sonics are strongest NBA teams, having reached finals two years in a row. Lakers are using small forwards, Jamaal Wilkes and Adrian Dantley . . . In summer prior to 1980 season, Cooke sells his California Sports Inc. empire (Lakers, Kings, Forum and a ranch) to Santa Monica real estate developer Jerry Buss for $67.5 million . . . Buss hires Jack McKinney to be head coach and Paul Westhead from LaSalle as assistant.

1980 — WORLD CHAMPIONS . . . McKinney falls from bicycle Nov. 8 and Westhead takes over, guiding team to Lakers' second NBA championship in their 20 years in LA . . . Abdul-Jabbar is MVP . . . Lakers win final playoff game over 76ers in Philadelphia without injured Kareem, and rookie star Magic Johnson wins playoff MVP award. Westhead is then given a new four-year contract by Buss and McKinney signs to coach Indiana Pacers . . . Pat Riley, lured from broadcasting booth where he was Hearn's color man, is new assistant coach.

1981 — Lakers open season with five consecutive wins, their best start ever in Los Angeles . . . On November 18, Magic Johnson, in a game against Kansas City, suffers a torn cartilage in his left knee and is out for the next 45 games . . . Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, plays brilliantly in his absence, at one point scoring 22 or more points in 33 consecutive games . . . Lakers record a 28-17 mark without Magic . . . Head coach Paul Westhead wins his 100th NBA game, March 17 vs. Dallas, becoming fifth fastest in league history to do so . . . Los Angeles finishes second in the Pacific Division to Phoenix with a 54-28 record. Playoffs: Despite the home-court advantage, Lakers stunned in opening mini-series by Houston 2-1. Rockets advance to NBA Finals, before losing to Boston in six games.

1982 — WORLD CHAMPIONS . . . Lakers got off to a slow start and Paul Westhead is fired on November 19, record is 7-4 . . . Pat Riley takes over and the Lakers win 17 of next 20 games and stand 24-7 and open up a five game lead over Seattle in the Pacific Division . . . Mitch Kupchak injures his knee on December 19 and is lost for year . . . Lakers sign free agent Bob McAdoo on December 24 and compensate New Jersey with a draft pick . . . Kurt Rambis emerges as Kupchak's replacement on a January road trip to the mid-west . . . Lakers finish strong, winning 15 of final 19 games and their record of 57-25 is third best in NBA . . . Lakers sweep Phoenix and San Antonio 4-0 to reach NBA Finals, becoming first NBA club ever to record back-to-back series sweeps and win first game of NBA Finals vs. Philadelphia to set NBA record for most consecutive playoff wins . . . Lakers win second NBA World Championship in three years with a 114-104 win over 76ers in sixth game . . . Magic Johnson again wins MVP with a steady, 'blue-collar' performance which included 13 points, 13 rebounds and 13 assists in title game . . . McAdoo plays key role throughout playoffs and gets his first World Championship ring . . .

1983 — WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS . . . Lakers begin the season as the first reigning champion to add the No. 1 pick in the college draft with the selection of James Worthy . . . Golden State spoils the team's Championship ring ceremony on Opening Night with a 132-117 victory, but the Lakers win their next seven games . . . Commissioner Lawrence O'Brien upholds a protest lodged by the San Antonio Spurs after a double-overtime win by the Lakers in San Antonio, and the Spurs eventually win the completed game . . . Kareem Abdul-Jabbar passes two milestones, getting his 14,000th rebound and scoring his 29,000th point . . . Magic Johnson leads the league in assists and is named to the All-NBA First Team for the first time . . . Bob McAdoo misses the final 32 regular season games due to an injured toe, and James Worthy is lost for the playoffs when he suffers a broken leg in the final week of the regular-season . . . Lakers finish with a 58-24 record, one game better than the previous season . . . Pat Riley becomes the third-fastest coach in NBA history to win 100 games . . . Lakers defeat the Portland Trail Blazers in five games and the San Antonio Spurs in six before losing to the Philadelphia 76ers in four games in the Championship Series.

1984 — WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS . . . Prior to the pre-season opener, Norm Nixon and Eddie Jordan are traded to the San Diego Clippers for Byron Scott and Swen Nater . . . Mitch Kupchak, who sat out 23 months from knee injuries suffered in December, 1981, returns to the club in November . . . Earvin Johnson, off to a record-pace in assists, suffers a dislocated right index finger on Dec. 2 and is lost for a month . . . Bob McAdoo picks up the slack, coming off the bench and scoring in double figures in 25 straight games spanning December and January . . . Magic Johnson sets an All-Star Game record with 22 assists and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar leads the West with 25 points and 13 rebounds . . . Abdul-Jabbar breaks Wilt Chamberlain's all-time NBA FG record in Boston Feb. 8, the team's final victory in a season-long eight-game winning streak . . . Johnson's 23 assists vs. Seattle Feb. 21 tie the club record . . . Jamaal Wilkes comes down with an intestinal infection in February and never regains his usual form . . . Abdul-Jabbar breaks Wilt Chamberlain's all-time NBA scoring record vs. Utah at Las Vegas April 5 . . . the Lakers win their third straight Pacific Division title, eliminate Kansas City in three games, Dallas in five and Phoenix in six, before losing to Boston in seven games in the Championship Series . . . Johnson sets an all-time playoff record with 24 assists in Game 2 vs. Phoenix, and his 21 assists in Game 3 vs. Boston are an all-time Championship Series record . . . post-season honors: Abdul-Jabbar and Johnson are first team All-NBA, Michael Cooper is first team All-Defensive with Abdul-Jabbar second team, and Johnson wins the innaugural Schick Pivotal Player Award.

1985 — WORLD CHAMPIONS . . . Lakers start slowly, losing their first two games and five of their first eight . . . Kareem Abdul-Jabbar announces on December 5 that he will return for an unprecedented 17th season . . . Earvin Johnson receives a record 957,447 votes in the All-Star balloting . . . Jamaal Wilkes suffers torn ligaments in his left knee on February 1 and is lost for the remainder of the season . . . Pat Riley is named Coach of the Month as the Lakers have their winningest March ever (13-1) . . . Close the regular season winning 31 of their last 35 games, 17 in a row at home . . . Byron Scott leads the league in three-point FG percentage (.433) . . . Lakers win their fourth straight Pacific Division title by a league-record 20 games, and set two other records by shooting .545 FG and recording 2,575 assists . . . Eliminate the Suns in three games and the Blazers and Nuggets in five, before finally defeating the Celtics in a six-game Championship Series, in Boston, after eight previous failures . . . Kareem Abdul-Jabbar wins his second Playoff MVP trophy . . . Earvin Johnson is named to the All-NBA first team and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar is a second-team selection, while Michael Cooper receives first team All-Defensive honors.

WHO COULD ASK FOR ANYTHING MORE! TOYOTA

1986 4X4 SR5 XTRACAB.

#1 SELLING SMALL TRUCK IN AMERICA.†

Every driver of every other small truck knows one thing for certain: they'd better get their tailpipes out of your way.

No malice intended, but this all new 1986 Toyota 4X4 Gas Turbo—the first and only one of its kind—just happens to be the single, most powerful small truck you can buy. East or West.

Its Electronically Fuel-Injected, 2.4 liter SOHC gas-turbo engine methodically pumps out a staggering 135 horsepower and 173 ft./lbs. of gut-wrenching torque. So it goes just about anywhere it wants. Up mountains. Across ditches. And through sand washes with its wide P225/75R15 radials.

Nearly all manner of road deformity is absorbed by its all new Hi-Trac independent front-suspension with stabilizer bar. And raised torsion bars insure the highest ground clearance of any truck in its class. Bone shaking rides don't exist where directional stability and smoother rides do.

There's more to this Xtracab: Like remarkable space behind the seats, 7-way adjustable driver's Sport Seat, thick and rich cut-pile carpeting, an AM/FM/MPX stereo system with cassette and the most leg room of any truck in its class. And the list piles on.

If total domination of the road appeals to you, good news pal: this Turbo's the tyrant.
